The instruction in this department recognizes and appreciates the facts and truths both of Natural Theology and of Ethnic Theology, but devotes itself mainly to the exposition and applications of Biblical Theology. The controlling purpose is to lead the student to an accurate and complete knowledge of the Sacred Scriptures themselves, regarded especially as the faithful record of the progressive self-revelations of God, in history, as the God of Redemption.

The particular studies pursued in this department call for no comment here; but it may be well to state that Biblical Literature, as here taught, includes the general facts and principles of Biblical Canonics and of Biblical Criticism, as well as the more specific matters of the authorship, the time and place of writing, the purpose, the plan, the contents, and the style of the several books.

Any one wishing to enter a class in applied Mathematics must first become familiar with those branches of pure Mathematics upon which the applied depends for its principles. The courses are so arranged that no student, pursuing them in the order indicated and with the thoroughness required, encounters serious difficulty.

In Land Surveying and in Roads and Railroads, special attention is given to field work and mapping. Students in the latter class are required to lay out curves, and make calculations for excavations, embankments and transportation of earth, to make plots, tracings and blue prints, to practice the use of the pantagraph and planimeter, and in general to become familiar with methods of both field and office work.

To enter the Freshman class in Mathematics, the applicant must be familiar with the rules and methods of treatment of Quadratic Equations, Progressions, Variations and Logarithms. When sufficient evidence of preparation cannot be given, an examination is required on the subject as presented in Wentworth's School Algebra.

A small fee, to be paid before entering the class, is charged for the use of the instruments and drawing room: in Descriptive Geometry $2, in Surveying and in Roads and Railroads $3 each.

Department of Music.

Recognizing the intellectual and spiritual value of a complete course in the Art of Music, Bethany College follows the example of other celebrated institutions at home and abroad, by making the study of Music one of the elective courses of the college, and admits the same as a substitute for one of the studies in the Classical, Scientific, Literary or Ministerial course.

The object of the Music Department is to prepare students for an active, artistic career, either in concert, church, school or on the stage.

To educate teachers, who shall be masters of knowledge and understanding in the correct and systematic training of those entrusted to their care.

To give solid, artistic foundation, graceful and brilliant execution to those fortunate ones who, free from material cares, follow art for art's sake, and who either in the circle of a cultured home, or as leaders in society, diffuse pleasure and happiness around them.

Branches of Instruction.

The Department of Music consists of four principal courses.

- | | |
|--------------------|-----------------------------|
| I. Piano or Organ. | III. Orchestra (violin &c). |
| II. Voice Culture. | IV. Theory. |

Beside these, there are two special courses, one for ministerial students and singing evangelists, in classes of four students.

The other is a course in Gaitar, Mandolin, Banjo, etc.

PIANO OR ORGAN.

All Piano students must attend the classes in Harmony and Theory. Teacher's Certificate will be given to those completing our Three Years' Course. This Course includes Two Year's study of Harmony and Two Year's of Musical Forms, Aesthetics, Laws of Sound, History, etc.

It is taught in classes meeting once a week.

Terms of Tuition.

Comparing our terms with those of other institutions, it is well to bear in mind that we mean by "Term" four and one-half months, and not, as is customary, only ten weeks. Remembering this, it will be seen at a glance that our terms of Tuition are only about one-half of those of other institutions of like celebrity. Bethany College is an endowed institution. Its entire income is devoted to the instruction of students.

It gives the advantages, rules, regulations, special privileges, etc.

Department of Art.

The Art Department is in charge of Mrs. Bessie C. Tribble, who brings to the position superior talents and experience. Thorough instruction is given in Free-hand Drawing, China Painting, Portrait and Landscape Painting in Oil, Crayon, Water Colors, and India Ink. Situated in one of the most beautiful landscapes in America, Bethany affords rare opportunities for sketching from nature. It is the purpose and policy of the college to foster the love and study of art continually.

FIRST YEAR.

This consists in the drawing of straight and curved lines, circles, squares and other simple forms in outline, until the muscles of the hand have learned to obey the will. This is continued with simple drawings executed in the modern method, until the use of charcoal and crayon is thoroughly understood. The student then takes up Cast drawing, which is progressive, beginning with the features in different positions and leading gradually to the full head, feet, hands, etc., until the full length figure is reached.

SECOND YEAR.

Crayon, Pastel, Drawing from Nature. Water Colors.

Department of Elocution and Oratory.

The design of this department is to cultivate a taste for pure literature, to elevate the standard of expression, and to qualify students for public reading and speaking.

There are two regular courses of study: the Artistic, requiring two years, and the Practical, condensed from the Artistic, and requiring but one year.

The work in the regular courses is supplemented by lectures on such subjects as, Mental and Moral Conditions Affecting the Voice, The Use of the Will in Elocutionary Work, Nervousness and Stage Fright, Personal Magnetism, and other topics of interest to the student of elocution and oratory.

Every Friday afternoon is devoted entirely to the interests of those taking private lessons, and to those only. The time is spent in preparing recitations, correcting essays, delivering orations, etc. Monthly recitals are given in Chapel Hall. Lessons are one hour each; recitations daily.

Department of Physical Education.

Believing that the true principles and methods of education require proper and proportionate consideration to be given to both mind and body, Bethany College, in connection with her other departments of instruction, also furnishes and fosters a department of Physical Education. This is under the special charge of Mr. H. S. Ingram, a competent and experienced Physical Director. There is a commodious gymnasium, well equipped with the best modern apparatus and appliances for physical development and culture, such as horizontal bars, parallel bars, ladders, climbing ropes, chest weights, dumb-bells, wands, indian clubs, striking bag, basket ball, etc. Within the College Campus, there are ample athletic grounds, well laid out for base ball, foot ball and other athletic games; also fine tennis courts, croquet grounds, etc.

Thus superior advantages and inducements are afforded for both indoor and outdoor exercise and recreation for both ladies and gentlemen. At the beginning of the school year, the Physical Director gives each student so desiring, a physical examination, and special advice respecting the best course of exercises to pursue. Every afternoon during the session, Mr. Ingram conducts classes in calisthenics, gymnastics, or other athletic exercises, and gives practical instruction, respecting the principles to be regarded in preserving health and in improving the general physical condition.

For examination and instruction by the Physical Director, with the use of the gymnasium, the fee is five dollars per year.

Courses of Study.

Bethany College has four regular courses: The Classical and the Ministerial, each leading to the degree of Bachelor of Arts; the Scientific to Bachelor of Science; and the Literary, to Bachelor of Letters. For the studies required in each of the courses see the Synoptical View, page 32, and the several Departments of Instruction, pages 6 to 10.

In addition to the regular courses, instruction is given in English Grammar, Arithmetic and Elementary Algebra, in preparation for the Freshman Year.

Library and Reading Room.

This is a commodious apartment, 30 by 38 feet, well lighted, and supplied with the best papers and magazines of the day. It is known by many that our library has twice suffered heavy losses by fire; it is at present well equipped with encyclopedias and other works of reference, and contains, besides, about two thousand volumes of miscellaneous literature. Liberal gifts in books have been made by friends from time to time; such donations are earnestly solicited, and will be at all times gratefully acknowledged.

Cabinets and Museums.

The Natural History Cabinet contains some of the Fauna, Birds and Mammals of this region, with a very valuable collection from Australia, and exchanges from other sections of the country; also a fine Herbarium of native plants, with many rare ones from other parts of the world.

The Mineralogical and Geological Cabinet contains several thousand specimens of Minerals and Fossils from all parts of the world.

The Ethnological Cabinet, though not large, contains rare and valuable collections.

The Philosophical Apparatus affords facilities for the illustration of physical principles.

The Chemical Laboratory is provided with apparatus and chemicals for illustration in the courses offered.

Literary Societies.

There are, in connection with the college, four societies devoted to the cultivation of literary composition and oratory: the Ossolian, the Neotrophian, the American and the Adelphian. The Ossolian is distinctively for ladies, and the Adelphian for ministerial students.

Students Lecture Association.

A course of popular lectures is given each year under the auspices of this association, affording the students the benefit of some of the best platform talent of the country.

The Collegian.

During the college year the students publish a monthly journal, entitled The Collegian, which may be used as an excellent means for developing literary talent.

Religious Services.

The daily morning devotions are held in the college chapel at eight o'clock.

Daily and weekly meetings for prayer and for song and exhortation are maintained by the students.

The college authorities are anxious to make the college pulpit worthy of its splendid traditions. The regular preacher is a member of the faculty; other members speak occasionally, and during the year a number of eminent men are invited to spend a Lord's Day in Bethany. The church seeks to contribute to the piety of every student.

The Y. M. C. A., the Y. W. C. A. and the Y. P. S. C. E. have each a large and active membership among the students, and are doing good work. A number of the students are enrolled in the Volunteer Band.

Missions.

A course of lectures on Missions is given before the whole school. This course covers as fully as practicable all the more important points in the Theory, History and Practice of Christian Missions. The matter is equally important to those who are preparing for work at home, and for those who prepare to go abroad. The Missionary Association of the college holds stated meetings to hear reports and original letters from former students and others in the various mission fields, to pray for the increased success of missionary labor, to discuss questions connected with the mission work, and, in general, to cultivate an intelligent personal interest in the great enterprise of evangelizing the world.

Entrance and Examinations.

The college year consists of two terms, four and a half months each. It begins on the third Monday in September, and ends on the second Thursday in June.

Students desiring to enter any class, must give evidence of their being prepared for the work of that class. Students entering from other institutions, must bring certificates of the amount and kind of work done. If these are satisfactory to the Faculty the students are admitted without examination; otherwise they must pass a satisfactory examination in those studies previously taken by the class they wish to enter. Any student found to be working at a disadvantage to himself, through inadequate preparation for the class to which he has been admitted, will be required to enter lower. No student whose average grade falls below seventy-five in any class, will be allowed to enter the next higher class.

Degrees and Diplomas.

To receive the degree of Bachelor of Arts, Bachelor of Science or Bachelor of Letters, the candidate must have completed all the studies required (or their full equivalents) in the course leading to the desired degree, with an actual attendance in the college during at least the Senior year.

Students who have attended the college during the Junior and Senior years and whose final grade, computed as the average of all their monthly and examination grades during these years, is ninety-three per cent., are enrolled on the Honor List, and this distinction is noted in the diploma by the words Cum Laude. A final grade of ninety-four per cent. is noted by Magna Cum Laude, one of ninety-five per cent. by Summa Cum Laude. In the awarding of honors, however, regard is had to the conduct of the student during his course, and any student who has incurred serious discipline may be debarred from the honor to which otherwise his scholarship would have entitled him.

In order to obtain the degree of Master of Arts, the candidate must first receive the degree of Bachelor of Arts, be thereafter in actual attendance in the college for one session, and complete, with an approved examination in each, three studies to be selected by him with the consent of the Faculty.

The Honorary Degree of Master in any one of the courses may be conferred on a Bachelor of three years standing in that course, provided he has, during the interval, pursued studies relating to the degree and has maintained an exemplary character.

The fee for any diploma is ten dollars; except for a Bachelor's diploma to Ministerial students, which is five dollars. No application for the degree of Master is entertained unless accompanied by the fee of ten dollars, which is returned if the degree is not conferred.

Expenses.

Young men can procure board and rooms (either furnished or unfurnished) in Bethany at about the same prices, according to quality, as the prevailing cost of corresponding accommodations in other college communities. The best rooms in the village, furnished and cared for, with fuel, etc., can be had for the entire session by two students at a cost to each of from thirty to thirty-five dollars. The best board can be had for from two dollars and fifty cents to three dollars a week. Good board can be had for two dollars a week. In clubs it may be made to cost still less. The following tabular statement may be taken as a fair average of the necessary expenses of a young man for the entire session, or college year.

Tuition	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	$ 40 00
Matriculation	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	10 00
Furnished Room	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	30 00
Board, 38 weeks at $2.50 per week	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	95 00
Total	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	175 00

Expenses at Phillips Hall.

Young ladies residing as students at Phillips Hall are given furnished rooms (heated and lighted) and board, for three dollars a week. Care is taken to provide the young ladies a sufficiency of wholesome, palatable food, and to allow them a reasonable freedom of the house in all respects. Each young lady is expected to bring sheets, pillow cases, towels, napkins, napkin ring, knife, fork, teaspoon and lamp. Of course each young lady is charged also the regular Tuition and Matriculation fees of the college.

Phillips Hall, the handsome gift of the Hon. Thomas W. Phillips, of New Castle, Pa., is a large and commodious building, well adapted to the wants of young ladies. The rooms are nicely carpeted and well furnished. The Hall is heated throughout by steam, has hot and cold water on each floor, and is supplied with bath rooms. The building is situated on College Hill, only a few steps from the college building, which renders it convenient for the students to study in their own rooms between class hours.

Mrs. Georgina Hawkins, the experienced and popular matron, devotes herself entirely to the welfare of the young ladies and endeavors to make this place a home in fact as well as in name. The moral and spiritual, as well as the intellectual interests of the young ladies are constantly kept in view. It is sought to inspire them with the highest ideals, and to promote their growth in character as well as in mind. Honor and truth are the main principles regarded in the government of the home; and sympathy and confidence rather than rigid rules are relied on to preserve the peace and order of the household. This confidence is rarely disappointed. Young Ladies who have begun to take life in earnest do not need much discipline. Others are not advised to come to Bethany.

It is not expected that young ladies in attendance as students of the college will board elsewhere in the village, unless under the expressed approval of their parents or guardians, with the concurrence of the college Faculty.

Reduced Tuition.

Young men in any of the religious denominations, who wish to prepare for the ministry, may, on paying the matriculation fee, be admitted into any of the courses at Bethany College at one-half the regular rates of tuition.

All applicants for this privilege are required to present to the Faculty satisfactory written recommendations from their respective congregations, and from well known ministers of the gospel, certifying that they come under the foregoing conditions.

Children of regular ministers of the gospel, of all denominations, are admitted to all classes and privileges of the college upon payment of the matriculation fee and one-half the regular tuition.

All students admitted at reduced rates of tuition may be required to give instruction in the primary classes.

Phillips Loan Fund.

A few years ago the Hon. Thomas W. Phillips, of New Castle, Pa., generously donated to the trustees the sum of five thousand dollars to be loaned to students in Bethany College who are preparing for the ministry. The original fund as thus constituted has since been considerably increased by other generous gifts and by accrued interest. Aid from this fund may be obtained by ministerial students, on complying with the conditions of the loan.

Regulations.

In order to contribute to the welfare of all concerned, the following regulations have been adopted. The Faculty most earnestly requests the co-operation of parents and guardians in their enforcement.

Fees.—One-half of the expenses of the college year must be paid at the opening of the first term, the other half at the opening of the second term. The matriculation and tuition fees must be paid invariably in advance. Before entering class, a student is required to show his matriculation card. Every student using a scholarship must, when matriculating, present it, or a copy of it, to the Bursar.

No portion of the student's college fees is refunded on account of withdrawal from the college, unless the withdrawal be rendered necessary by ill health.

Number of Studies.—A student must have at least three daily studies, unless, upon the written request of parent or guardian, or for good cause shown, the Faculty shall allow him to take a less number.

Absences.—A student is not permitted to absent himself from any recitation or examination without valid excuse, nor from the college without special leave from the President. Any student who fails to attend his classes regularly or to manifest an interest in his work, is dismissed. The college is vastly better off without those who cumber the ground. Good students must not be kept back by those who lack either aptitude or application.

Reports.—At the end of each term (or oftener if requested) a report is sent by the Faculty to the parent or guardian of each student, stating grades and absences from recitations and examinations, together with such other information respecting the student's progress and conduct as may be deemed proper to communicate or as the parent or guardian may especially request. The object of such reports is to incite the student to diligence by the commendation and encouragement of his friends, and to restrain him from idleness and disorder by their admonition and advice. The usefulness of the reports greatly depends upon the prompt and judicious attention they receive from those to whom they are addressed. Parents and guardians therefore cannot be too earnest or prompt in communicating such advice or encouragement as these reports may suggest.

Conduct.—Young men are expected to conduct themselves as gentlemen. The college does not lay down specific and minute regulations; at the same time it hopes that each one will be a law to himself, and that he will do nothing inconsistent with good order, good taste or good morals. Should any one act otherwise, the Faculty will take note of the offence at once, and deal with the offender as the best interests of all concerned may require. In like manner the young ladies are expected to act in strict accord with the principles of propriety and honor.

The laws of the college require from every student decorous, sober and upright conduct as long as he remains a member of the college. whether he be within the precincts or not. They strictly forbid drunkenness, gaming, dissoluteness, swearing, habits of expense, and the introduction of wine or other intoxicating drinks into town or college precincts. They require a proper observance of the Lord's Day. They forbid the use or possession of pistols or other weapons, and the introduction of them into the college precincts. Any violation of these Regulations may lead to dismissal or expulsion from the college.

Prohibition of credit.—The Faculty wish to urge parents and guardians not to allow students to contract debts to any large amount. Such funds as are necessary ought to be promptly furnished. It should be borne in mind that too much money is likely to lead to drinking, gambling, and other bad habits. No student need spend over three hundred dollars a year; the majority of the students spend much less than this sum.

General Information.

Location.—Bethany College is situated in the Panhandle of West Virginia, sixteen miles north of Wheeling. The railroad stations for Bethany are Brilliant, on the Cleveland and Pittsburgh Railroad (river division), and Wellsburg, on the Wheeling branch of the Pittsburgh, Cincinnati, Chicago and St. Louis Railway. From these stations stages are run to Bethany every day, except Sunday. For special conveyance, address W. P. Cowans, Moore Bros., or J. M. Davis, Bethany, W. Va.

Healthfulness.—Bethany is in the midst of an elevated region, where there is pure air, good water, and almost perfect exemption from malaria and intermittent, congestive and malignant fevers, so prevalent in some parts of the country.

Environment.—The surrounding country is one of extraordinary natural beauty. Where can be found a fairer scene than that which opens to us as we stand on the steps or walk the corridor of the college building? Noble hills, which do not rush abruptly to their really mountainous height, but rise to it by gentle gradations which give them a rounded and finished aspect, and, besides, make them green pastures to their very summits through all the seasons; valleys fair and fragrant, through which the shadowy waters of "Old Buffalo" wander riverward forever—but why try to describe in cold type that which only poet's or painter's power can portray? Who that has seen can ever forget this picturesque and perfect landscape? "The veriest clod that ever vegetated" could not contemplate these scenes continually without some elevation and enlargement of mind. Rarely does nature bestow on any one spot so various charms with so lavish hand. Added to these natural attractions are the traditions and associations which linger about the place. The memory of those great souls who lived and labored at Bethany, is kept green among us. Their ashes rest amid these fruitful and peaceful hills. Their ideas and aims still hover in the air. The very atmosphere of such a place is an education in itself.

Aims.—It is but the truth to say, that Bethany hardly aspires to be a great school, as some count greatness—great in the number of names on its register. It rather rejoices to be enrolled among the small colleges of our country. The small college has played a great part in American education and history. Is it more than doubtful that so good results would have come if our colleges had been fewer and larger. The university has its mission, but it will not be well for our generation if it be made to supplant the college, or if our colleges all aspire to be universities. The ambition of magnitude so common to our colleges, is not altogether a matter of congratulation. A college is to be judged more by the character than the number of its students. Mammoth schools, like other mammoth concerns, may serve well for advertising ends, but they are likely to turn out a large proportion of men who, however they may count in the catalogue, count for very little in the world's work.

Bethany and the ministry.—From its foundation, the college has attracted those who desire to prepare themselves for gospel ministry. So true is this, that it is sometimes supposed to be chiefly, if not wholly, a school for students for the ministry. It is, in fact, much more than this: it is a college in the full sense, educating men not for one calling only, but for all the vocations of life. It has eminent alumni in all the professions. It is, however, eminently a school for the training of preachers. So far as our knowledge goes, no one ever came to Bethany with the intention of devoting his life to the ministry, and changed that intention after coming here, while it is a thing of frequent occurrence that one who comes with his mind set on some other profession, resolves, after being in the college awhile, to give himself to the work of the ministry. Bethany exalts the ministerial office. A ministerial student is held in at least equal honor with any other, while his intimate association with other students of the college, and his instruction in the same classes and studies with the rest, corrects all tendency to clericalisms. Bethany aims to make young men, first of all, students and scholars. Before entering upon the strictly ministerial studies, the student is drilled in the classical and disciplinary studies as are other students. The design of this is to bring him to a degree of maturity and independence of mind before beginning the special ministerial studies. The propriety of this is obvious.

RELIABLE INSURANCE AT REASONABLE COST.

THE RATES in the First Division are based on Present Cost, payable either monthly or annually, and are low enough to be within the reach of any industrious man.

The rates in the Safety Fund Division are based on tested mortuary tables, with sufficient added to create an ample Safety Fund. The early payments in this Division will be larger, but because of the profits from lapses, the actual cost, will be smaller to persistent members than in the First Division.

The Board of Trustees of Bethany College appointed Pres. H. McDiarmid, Russell Errett, S. M. Cooper, and A. McLean a Committee to examine the plans of the Association. The Committee, after being advised by men learned in the science of insurance, and after such investigation as thoroughly satisfied them of the superior merits of the plans of the Capitol Life Association, unanimously approved the same, and authorized and instructed President McDiarmid to execute a contract on behalf of Bethany College with President Jefferson. In pursuance of such instruction, President McDiarmid has entered into a contract with the Association which it is believed will greatly benefit Bethany College, and furnish reliable insurance at reasonable cost to those who need it.
